DIRECTIONS. For doing a Large Family washing in Two Hours; of Five or Six

1. Cut up fine a bar of the Soap, and put one-half of it into your boiler with sufficient water to cover your white clothes to be washed, and let the soap dissolve; then put your clothes n, stirring them, and let them just come to abell, then pour out cotices and water into a tub and let them soak twenty or thirty minutes, stirring them around in the tub occasionally to loseen the dirt. Such articles as colliers, were though on an emails a little while soak; gin order to loseen the dirt. Such articles as colliers, were though on an emails a little while soak; gin order to loseen the dirt before beiling.

2. While your cler was arcsoaking pit the half of your cut soap into your boiler, with sufficient clean water to boil, and let it be heating. After your cotothes have soaked wring them out well and put into your boiling water, and let boil from 5 to 10 ratautes, then rinse, blue and hang out to dry. If the above directions are followed, we will guarantee your clothes clean and white.

3. For your colorer and woollen clothee use the same water you soaked and woollen clothee use the same water you soaked and be led your white clothes with only hearing it up again, and pour it over your colored and woollen clothee, and let soak the same as you will end woollen clothes, and let soak the same as you will will will be any and you will thus accomplish a large washing in two hours.

By cutting up a bar of this soap into two gallons water and let tool until thoroughly dissolved, and then leave to col, you will have two gallons of beautiful SOFT SOAP as good as Common Soap for general house purposes.

ORIENTAL MARKET

Friday Morning, Dec 16, 1870: The Session and its Work. Yet a few more days - holidays for the most part-and the Legislature will be convened. Probably no Legislature the sole work of the approaching session. In truth, we are apt to think that the less else is attempted the better. That less else is attempted the better. That legislation on other matters is needed cannot be denied; but it will probably be more in accord with public sentiment, and, we may add, with public interest, too, that the Colony should at once assume its new position and relationships, leaving general legislation to be looked for under more auspicious circumstances. Confederation may, therefore, be regarded as the work of the session; and, thanks to the Governor and his advisors, that work will be presented in a condition of such complete readiness that a simple "aye" or "no' is almost all that need be uttered. A motion to accept the Terms agreed to by the almost all that need be uttered. A motion to accept the Terms agreed to by the Dominion Cabinet, and an address to the Queen, asking for admission upon these Terms, will do the work. Knowing the composition of the new Council, the new Council, the composition of the new Council, the composition of the new Council, the new Council one may not, perhaps, venture to hope that all will be content with pronouncing the monosyllabic fiat which is to knock the rusty shackles from the stunted limbs of this colony, or to rivet them still tighter. There is still room to four that an affort may be to fear that an effort may be made to delay or endanger Coulederation by mix-ing it up with issues which, however important they may be in themselves, are separate and ancillary in their character and relations. We have witnessed an attempt to embarrass the great question of Confederation by so connecting it with the location of the western terminwith the location of the western terminates of the railway as to make the former contingent upon the latter. The issue was artfully raised and, from its very uature, evolved no little interest. But, although, at one time, it was to be appresented that propular sentiment might to hended that popular sentiment might to some extent be misdirected through what must be regarded as a cunning what must be legar from that quarter has, happily, been averted. The next attempt will possess the advantage of even greater plausibility and more general concernment. 'No Responsible Government, no Confederation," is to be, the battle-cry with which it is now hoped to rally a sufficient following in the House, or a sufficient backing outside of it to make opposition formidable and felt. will yield to no man in an earnest desire to see Responsible Gov-ernment conferred upon British Columernment conferred upon British Columbia, coincidently with its admission into the Dominion; but we must protest against making even that all-important question an absolute condition, a sine qua non of Union. There must be no conditions, save only the Terms as they now stand before the country,—agreed to by the Canadian Government, universally accepted by the country,—agreed to by the Canadian Government, universally accepted by the country,—agreed to by the Canadian Government, universally accepted by the country,—agreed to by the Canadian Government, and the country,—agreed to by the Canadian Government, and the country does not want them to be imperiled. It understands their value too wall for that. But there is no need to cumber the Terms with the question of Responsible Government or, indeed, any other question. As we took occasion to point out, when the Terms were officially promulgated, the scheme has been wisely divested of every issue not being an essential part of it; and, although the two questions of a choice of Customs Tariffs and Responsible Government were understood to be virtually submitted to the test of a general election along with the Confederation Terms, and although the country has pronounced no equivocal verdict upon these two questions, yet the matter has been so arranged as that the 'aye' or 'no' upon these need in no way interfere with the main question. Such an arrangement was most wise and necessary in order to avoid that delay which the colony could so ill allord. But, even if it were otherwise, what would the country gain by refusing Confederation give of Responsible Government? As has been repeatedly said in these columns, we see no insenperable obstacle in the way of obtaining Responsible Government? As has been repeatedly said in these columns, we see no insenperable obstacle in the way of obtaining Responsible Government? As has been repeatedly said in these columns, we see no insenperable obstacle in the way of obtaining Responsible Government along with Confederation.

Mechan bia, coincidently with its admission into the Dominion; but we Mechanics' Literary Institute. It will be observed by reference to our advertising columns that arrangements are being made for holding a grand concert at the Theatre Royal, on Monday evening in aid of the funds of the above institution. In the midst of such frequent appeals to the public, in aid of various objects of a more or less meritorious nature, it may be well that the grounds of the special effort now being put forth by the new Board of Management of the Institute should receive a little consideration. Owing, doubtless, to the dullness and, we may say, general impecuniosity with which this community has been afflicted during the past year, the funds of the Institute have, unfortunately, been permitted to run behind to the extent, we believe, of some five or six hundred dollars. Debt is essentially bad; but it is especially perplexing to an institution such as the one under review; and the determination of the gentlemen comprising the present Board of Management to get rid of it is highly to be commended. The was ever called together under circums stances of greater public interest. The work of former sessions has to receive the finishing touch. The ardent hope of weary years is to be realized—or crushed! The completion of Confeder—ation constitutes the great work, almost the self-work of the approaching session. spending the spare hours of evening in ra-tional amusement or mental improvements and it is not too much to say that, in this way, it has been instrumental in keeping many a young man from a course which would make him less valuable as a citizen and less happy as a man. It is, therefore, the duty, if it is not the direct interest, of all classes to share in the maintenance of the classes to share in the maintenance of the Institute in a condition of that thorough of ficiency which is incompatible with debt. There is another ground upon which the entertainment may be regarded as presenting an additional claim to the patronage of the public. It would, indeed, be an unhandsome requital for all the time and trouble which are being devoted to preparation should the laties who have so kindly volunteered their services be permitted to 'waste their sweetness on' — half filled benches. Of course, we don't regard such a contingency as at all probable. It may be proper to state that, for bable. It may be proper to state that, for this occasion more than ordinary talent has been goured, and unusual effort is being made and we must be allowed to bespeak a corresponding appreciation on the part of the public. Of one thing we are certain, those who do go will be amply repaid by the entertainment itself, to say nothing of its ob-ject. Let the public, then, generously reject. Let the public, then, generously respond to an appeal so agreeably made and place the Mechanic's Institute at once out of debt.

N. P. R. R. T.

The announcement, made upon what our Scattle contemporary regards as good authority, that the North Pacific Railway Company have bought the entire property of the Bellingham Bay Company, although chiefly interesting to dwellers on Puget Sound, is by no means devoid of interest to the people of British Columbia. Of course we regard the purchase as indicating Bellingham Bay as the terminus of the Raliway, for it is searcely conceivable that so large an expenditure would be in-eurred with a less important object. Bellingham Bay is within fifteen miles of the International boundary, twenty-eight miles of the Langley, thirty-two miles of New Westmister, and fifteen miles of the track of steam navigation between Victoria and the Mainland. But the relations in which Bellingham Bay stands to Esquimalt concerns us most. Distant some fifty miles, it must be reached through the intricate and dangerous navigation of Rosario Straits. It is considerably more distant and greatly more difficult of access than Port Townsend, while it is less distant, but about equally difficult with Nisqually. It will thus appear that should the North Pacific find a termious at Bellingham Bay the Canadian Pacific would still possess a very decided advantage with its terminus at Esquimalt. The former would not be a more formidable competitor with its terminus at Bellingham Bay than it would by stopping at Nisqually, Distant some fifty miles, it competitor with its terminus at Belliogham Bay than it would by stopping at Nisqually, although with a terminus at the former place it would possess a decided advantage over Burrard Inlet, inasmuch as it would only be about half the distance from the Straits of Fuon. With their railway terminus at Belliogham Bay the San Juan question would derive increased importance to our neighbors.

REAM AT SEATTLE .-- Dr Ream sinuggled himbelf on board one of the Sound steamers at Victoria on Tuesday last, and reached at Victoria on Tuesday last, and reached Scattle the next morning at 31 o'clock, and shortly afterwards visited the premises of his victim's parents. The Intelligencer says: Her room is on the second floor in the rear of the building, which fact had not slipped his memory. So there he hid himself beneath her window and sought the advantage of a bench to get closer still. She was sound also be Rearing the bench against the side of a benon to get closer still. She was sound asleep. Rearing the bench against the side of the house at an easy angle, he shinned up its froated sides to the window sill, but could get no further. Fearful of disturbing the household, he was unable to rouse his slumgot no latther. Fastil of distances the newhold, he was unable to rouse his slumbering bride—just for ocelword of explanation; no other tecourse being left, he fastened a letter upon the window sill, and slid down again. The girl's mother heard a scrambling noise outside the house, stepped to her window, and got there just in time to see her promising son-in-law in the descending set, whom she mistock in the partial light for their big black deg: But the dog theory was disposed of the next morning by the fieding of that letter, in which the absconding husband and general reprobate tried to explain his conduct in part, and renewed his tale of love. In connection with his ardent declarations he folls her that he is poor, but hes a good profession, (that gught to be italicised) and it she will fly with him they'll be happy yet; but if she work be'll take her account. The letter also with him they'll be happy yet; but if she won't he'll take her anyhow. The letter also states that he would go up to Olympia the same night and see the Governor and that he would be back again next day. The impression, was that he larked around the outside the town intending another attempt to see his wife. This new role which the to see his wife. This new role which the Doctor has assumed revives some interest in

, PIXLEY DRAHATIC TROUPS.-The Pixley Sis, ters returned from Paget Sound yesterday where they have been playing a short but successful engagement. Indeed, they appear to have met with a most flattering reception at Seattle and Olympia. It will scarcely be necessary to present the claims to liberal patronage of these young and gifted artists in a community where they have already become such decided favorites. They have come here, accommanied by Means Melvilla and Ward such decided favorites. They have come here, accompanied by Messrs Melville and Ward, also favorably known in Victoria, with the intention of playing to-morrow evening only. It will be well that such liberal patronage shall be extended to them as may tend to make matters, agreeable all round, and prove that this manufacture when the appreciate talant and mmunity know how to appreciate talent and community know how to appreciate talent and respectability. The company will make its last appearance, under the present regime, at the Theatre Royal to-morrow night, when we hope these accomplished young ladies will be greated by a full house.

GRAND MASONIO BALL .- The Masonic Fra. ternity of this city have decided to hold their agreeable annual reunion on the 27th inst .-St John's Day. Masonic Balls have ever been the most successful given in this colony, and it is with a feeling of pleasure that we announce that the forthcoming affair will probably in every respect excel the previous efforts of the Cratt.

CATTLE SALE .- Mr Franklin's cattle sale will be held at 12 o'clock to-day. The stock to be offered are prime Durham and will, no doubt, find ready purchasers.

PUGET SOUND ITEMS. - Condensed from the Seattle Intelligencer of Tuesday: It is reported from quite a reliable source that the North Pacific Railway Company have purchased the entire property of the Bellingham Bay Coal Company for the sum of $1.000 000, payment, to be paid in railroad sbares.... The Pixley Troupe played at the Pavilion on Monday night. The house was well aled and the performance is described by the local press as the best ever witnessed at Scattle .. The Seattle Hook and Ladder Company are ball, to be held en the 8th proximo.....The bark Ridal Wave sailed from Port Madison for San Francisco on Saturday. The ship Commodore sailed from Port Ludlow on the 8th for the same place. The barkentine Fremont arrived at Seattle on Monday, and the bark Free Trade sailed from that port for San Francisco on Tuesday.....The Railroad Committee sailed at noon on Sunday on the Lincoln for up Sound ports.

EDUCATIONAL.—It is scarcely probable that the subject of Education will receive that attention during the next session necessary to the establishment of a liberal and efficient school system. The country will not tolerate even for a year longer a continuance of the present system without some amelioration. Under these circumstances, what is to be done in this all-important matter? Probably the most ready and effective measure of relief will be found in a simple amonder at the heavisting Ordination. in a simple amendment to the existing Ordinance by which the public schools will be very much more liberally, if not wholly, sustained out of the general revenue; and, with this view, we would respectfully sug-gest the propriety of suitable provision be-ing made in the Estimates. To tide over the session without attempting any metigation of the present truly deplorable condition of the Educational interests of the Colony must not be thought of.

NEARLY A SERIOUS ACCIDENT -Yesterday afternoon, on Government street, a horse attached to a wagon in which were seated Mr Lawrence and Mrs Fisher, of Metchesin, Lawrence and Mrs Fisher, of Metchesin, took fright at the unusual appearance of a steam firengine belching forth flame, steam and smoke, and, in place of running away from the strange object, backed into it while the engine was in full motion under a heavy head of steam. For a moment it seemed as if the occupants would be thrown upon the engine and seriously injured; but they were rescued from their perilous situaby the fireman, who drew them from the vehicle, and drove the hores to a place of vehicle, and drove the horse to a place of nafety.

THE Mail Stmr Isabel, Capt E A Starr arrived bere yesterday afternoon about six o'clock. She brought Wells, Fargo & Co's Express and a quantity of freight to order. Express and a quantity of freight to order, Amongst her list of passengers we notice the names of the Hon Philip Ritz, Dr G. G. Turner, Miss Hilton, Mrs J D Spurlook, Mrs O L Fergmon and the Bird Troupe, The Isabel will leave this morning at eleven o'clock, connecting at Pr. Towesend with the Simr. Alida for Olympia and way ports on the Sound, Purser Parker has our thanks for the extension. thanks for the customary favors.

JAMAICA .- In the absence of Gov. Grant, the Colonial Secretary is administering the Government of Jamaica, and the Hen W.A.G. Young, so long and prominently identified with this colony, is Acting Colonial Secretary. Many of our local readers will be glad to hear that Mr Young likes Jamaica very much, and that Mr Young likes Jamaica very much, and that he and his family are enjoying health and prosperity.

One of the best operators on the Mainland Telegraph Line, is a young girl of twelve years of age, named Sarah McClure. She is stationed at Matsqui Prairie, where her father resides, and repeats every message that passes over that portion of the line. She receives messages by sound and is singularly EXPECTED. The stmr Enterprise is ex pected to arrive from New Westminster this evening with a Cariboo Mail and Barnard's Express. There will doubtless be later Omenica news, and fuller information respecting the new route which has been explored by Mr G. B. Wright.

Townsend's Game Marker has been removed to the store adjoining Fell & Finlayson's, on Fort street. Townsend has already on hand any amount of fat poultry, game and porkers, which he intends to sell at low rates. Families in search of the wherewithal for Christmas dinners should make a note of this.

SUICIDE,- Louis Miller, Sergeant of the 23nd U. S. Infantry, committed suicide in his quarters on the 30th ult., by shooting bimself through the breast with a rifle. No cause is assigned for the act.

Light east wind, 13th— Max 42, Min 12. Calm, 14th—Max 40 Min 12. Calm, Yale, Dec 15—Last Monday night there was a fall of snow about 6 inches deep. Since then the weather has been very clar with a cold wind blowing from the northwest. The thermometer has not ranged above 45 or fallen below 12. The Stage arrived on Monday with Express and passen gers. The Express Cance left on Tuesday morning for Now Westminster with passen-gers and mail. Mr Barnard was among the former. Large quantities of grain and freight arrived from below. There is no ice in the river. The river is falling slowly and has about 4 feet to fall to reach low water mark of last winter.

Europe.

Parts, 8-Food is becoming scarce. The weather is inclement.

Moltke's letter, announcing the capture of Orleans, causes great excitement. The people are resolved on resistance.

The sharpshooters have been disbanded for fear of their fighting with the Garde Nation al. Unfortunate differences occur among the officers, and one commander of artillery retused to obey orders. Despot and Banchard had quarrelled, and the latter had been replaced by another officer.

BRUSSELS, Dec 14—The Belgian journals lament that the Prussian war reports have lost the character for veracity at first ascribed lost the character for veracity at first ascribed to them.

The London Times protests against the attitude of Prussia toward Luxemburg, as it did against that of Russia toward Turkey. The attitude of both Powers is indefentible, but it is not Eugland's duty to interfere.

VIENNA, Dee 14—At a session of the Hungarian detegation, Benedek replied to the Prince of Austria that the Hungarian army consisted of 864.864 regulars and 187.527 laudwehr, with an increase of 378 guns since 1867. The regulars possess 900,000 breech 1867. The regulars possess 900,000 breech loading rifles, and the landwehr 237,227 muzzle loading guns, and 150,000 more are required. NEW YORK. Dec 15 - Late foreign mail advices confirm the dispatches of the London Telegraph that a new treaty will be proposed without the neuralization of the Black Sea. The French representative will take seat on behalf of the Government of A Vienna correspondent telegraphs that a council of Ministers was held at Pesth on the 2d inst, when it was resolved that Austria would accept the proposed conference only on condition that Russia acknowledged expressly its completeness and withdraws her notification and if other Powers agree to a joint action in case Russia refuses. A correspondent of the Manchester Guar dian says it is stated on good authority that all the Powers except France have accepted the proposal for a conference. The date is not yet fixed, but London will be the place of assembly. It is not improbable that Earl Granville will be requested to act as President.

Bordeaux. Dec 24-No serious engagements since the 10th.

The evacuation of the triangle formed by ferneul, Bazzeles and Drux is confirmed. Dieppe has been free from Prussians since

A number of small engagements, resulting successfully to the French, have occurred on the left bank of the Loire.

The Prussians now occupy Monte Richard, Romontes and Coutres. The Government announces that Havre and Dieppe are not open to neutrals: Prussian prisoners assert that the losses of the army of Prince Frederick Charles during the combats with Charlesy have not been less than 20000 men. The villages along his lines are filled with wounded.

There is no communication with the north of France. The journals here demand the prompt election of the Constituent Assembly

California.

It is the best and the most rational of all remedies against consumption. Under its influence the cough abates, the night aweals cease, and the patient rapidly recovers hearth. It gives the some results in cases of coughs, catarrish, hooping coughs and influenza. In comparing this syrap with the other sold under the same name, it will be easy to recognize the superfority of this preparation.
